Three outcomes from the same attendance record

Checking early helps you correct errors before deadlines.

PFI Deduction

Peso deductions for verified daily attendance issues.

Attendance Incentive (ATI)

Monthly qualification and payout progression.

Monthly Ranking

Attendance points determine your score and rank.

KEY NOTE

02 / PFI deductions

PFI Deduction

LVL: attendance issue code. Gross PFI: amount setting deduction class.

Who

Active Cebu teachers in BFC and ITP.

Cutoff

26th-25th.
Example: September 26-October 25.

Starts September 2026

Earlier review months have no calculation.

One daily result

Keep only the highest LVL code each workday.

KEY NOTE
Applied deduction stays ₱0 until Gross PFI is available.

KEY NOTE
Invalid and deleted clock-in records do not count.

Reviewed source section 5, 7-8

Clock-in time uses Japan Time (JT)

The portal checks the schedule history for that exact date.

09:00

Example active shift starts.

08:50

Required clock-in: 10 minutes before the first active shift.

08:50:59

Latest on-time clock-in.

08:51:00

Late begins after the 60-second grace.

KEY NOTE
Minutes late start from required clock-in time, before class start.

Reviewed source section 7-8

Missing required work time

Work deficit means required work time you did not complete.

30 minutes or less

Ignored for undertime. Treated under lateness.

31 minutes-4 hours

Undertime codes

U1: after work

Left early. Valid Post-undertime INFO.

U2: before work

Missed the start. Valid Pre-undertime INFO.

U3: late + undertime

Same workday. Valid attendance INFO.

U4: without INFO

Undertime found. No valid undertime INFO.

KEY NOTE
The code depends on missing time and valid INFO.

Reviewed source section 10

Lateness with valid Late INFO

L1: ₱200

1-5 minutes late.

L2: ₱200

Over 5, up to 10 minutes late.

L3: ₱250

More than 10 minutes late.

KEY NOTE
Fixed late amounts stay the same across Gross PFI classes.

The source states that a matching Late INFO changes the code while clock-in remains the main evidence.

Reviewed source section 8, 11

PFI exemptions follow this order

Immunity means no PFI deduction for a qualifying attendance finding.

Approved full-day leave

Remove findings covered by approved, matching leave.

ATI immunity

Earliest remaining LVL incident receives no PFI deduction.

Late-only immunity

Apply the qualifying single-code rule last.

KEY NOTE
Approved leave first. ATI immunity second. Late-only immunity last.

Reviewed source section 14, 16

Late-only immunity needs one code

Only L1

First 4 incidents have no deduction.

Only L2

First 3 incidents have no deduction.

Only L3

Teacher questions and answers

Undated FAQ screenshot

Find short answers about leave, pay, corrections, and ranking.

SOURCE CONTEXT
This FAQ uses “PFI points” and “Attendance PFI base deduction.” Their relationship to the reviewed guide’s peso-based PFI and ranking points is unconfirmed. The three affected answers are flagged below. Keep the reviewed guide as the rule for current calculations.

01 / I filed a Planned Absence. What happens?

The supplied FAQ says no ATI is issued. It says PFI and the sanction remain safe, but no basic pay is provided for the days covered by Planned Absence. It also says there is no Monthly Ranking deduction.

The screenshot does not state the leave approval or advance-filing conditions. Check those in the reviewed guide.

02 / I filed AWC for my absence. What happens?

AWC means Absence with Certificate. The FAQ says it waives the attendance sanction and prevents ATI. No basic pay is provided. It labels the “Attendance PFI base deduction” as −2.5 points per absence.

TERMS NEED CONFIRMATION
“Attendance PFI base deduction” is the screenshot’s label. Do not treat these points as pesos. AWC alone does not create an approved-leave exemption in the reviewed guide.

03 / Why was I deducted for two absence days without an attendance infraction?

The FAQ gives two cases. Case 1: attendance logs were incomplete and no attendance correction was filed. Case 2: SL or SIL was filed; check the payslip to confirm whether the corresponding pay was credited.

04 / I filed SL. Do I still need a log correction?

No. The FAQ says not to file a log correction for an absence already properly filed as SL/SIL.

05 / How much does the FAQ deduct from PFI for Sick Leave?

It states −1.5 PFI points per day. It says this applies to Sick Leave (SL) and to Service Incentive Leave (SIL) converted to SL.

TERMS NEED CONFIRMATION
The FAQ calls these “PFI points.” The reviewed ranking guide separates qualifying Sick Leave from SIL converted to Sick Leave. Do not apply this screenshot’s value as a current PFI peso amount or as a replacement ranking rule.

06 / Does AWC waive my PFI deduction?

No. The FAQ says AWC waives the attendance sanction, while the PFI deduction still applies at −2.5 points per absence.

This repeats the FAQ's point-based wording; see the flagged AWC answer above.

07 / Can I file Sick Leave for undertime?

Yes. The FAQ says SL may be filed for eligible undertime. It says the applicable base PFI deduction remains −1.5 points.

TERMS NEED CONFIRMATION
"Base PFI deduction" and "points" are the screenshot's terms. Eligibility conditions and the connection to the reviewed peso-based PFI are not stated.

08 / What happens after a valid student attitude complaint?

The FAQ says each offense gives a −2-point infraction deduction. It affects the infraction score for one month.

This is an additional infraction reference. It is not added to the attendance calculators.

09 / How are teachers ranked in Monthly Ranking?

The FAQ says finalized ranking points and corresponding scores determine the ranking. A higher ranking score does not necessarily mean a higher level; the teacher must also meet that level's requirements.

10 / Can my Monthly Ranking level change after the initial file?

Yes. The initial file can change. Adjustments can increase or decrease other teachers' scores and affect the final ranking level. The supplied example says Teacher 1 may move from Level 1 to Level 2 after finalization, while Teacher 2 may remain Level 3.

11 / After filing HL and SIL, can I still receive the daily minimum wage?

Yes. The FAQ says eligibility for the daily minimum wage remains, with no Monthly Performance deduction associated with HL/SIL, subject to applicable attendance and payroll rules.

HL is kept as written because this screenshot does not expand it.

Concern / FAQ	How to Address It
I filed a Planned Absence.	No ATI will be issued, and your PFI and sanction remain safe. However, no basic pay will be provided for the days covered by the Planned Absence. There is also no deduction from your Monthly Ranking.
I filed an AWC (Absence with Certificate) for my absence.	AWC waives the attendance sanction and prevents ATI. However, no basic pay will be provided, and the Attendance PFI base deduction is -2.5 points per absence.
I was deducted for 2 days of absence, but I did not receive any attendance infraction. Why?	Case 1: Incomplete logs. Your attendance logs were incomplete, and no attendance correction was filed. Case 2: Filed SL/SIL. If you filed SL or SIL, check your payslip to confirm whether the corresponding pay was credited.
I filed an SL for my absence. Do I still need to file a log correction?	No. Do not file a log correction for an absence that has already been properly filed as SL/SIL.
How much will be deducted from my PFI if I file Sick Leave (SL) for my absence?	-1.5 PFI points per day. This applies whether the absence is filed as SL or SIL that is converted to SL.
I filed an AWC. Will my PFI deduction be waived?	No. AWC is intended to waive the attendance sanction, but the PFI deduction still applies at -2.5 points per absence.
Can I file Sick Leave for my undertime?	Yes. You may file SL for an eligible undertime. The applicable base PFI deduction remains -1.5 points.
I received a valid attitude complaint from my student. What happens?	A valid attitude complaint results in a -2 point infraction deduction per offense, which will affect your infraction score for one month.
How are teachers ranked in the Monthly Ranking?	Teachers are ranked based on their finalized ranking points and corresponding scores. A higher ranking score does not necessarily mean a higher level unless the teacher meets the requirements for that level.
Can my Monthly Ranking level change after the initial file?	Yes. The initial file is subject to modification. Once adjustments are made, the scores of other teachers may increase or decrease, which can also affect their final ranking level. Example: Teacher 1 may initially be Level 1 but become Level 2 after finalization, while Teacher 2 may remain Level 3.
I filed HL and SIL. Am I still eligible to receive the daily minimum wage?	Yes. You remain eligible to receive the daily minimum wage, and there is no Monthly Performance deduction associated with filing HL/SIL, subject to the applicable attendance and payroll rules.
